FREEDOM
SERVICE DOGS
OF AMERICA

Freedom Service Dogs is a nonprofit charitable organization based in Denver, Colorado, that unleashes the potential of dogs by transforming them into custom-trained, life-changing assistance dogs for people facing physical, mental or psychological challenges who would benefit from an animal to assist them. In doing so, they help both people and animals through a variety of programs.

In 2009, the organization launched "Operation Freedom," which focused specifically on the needs of veterans who were returning from Iraq and Afghanistan with a wide array of mental and physical problems including post-traumatic stress disorder and traumatic brain injury. Service dogs can help by either performing tasks for physically disabled veterans, or providing the support that enables veterans with psychiatric disabilities to re-adjust to civilian life.

Freedom Service Dogs custom trains each dog to meet the needs of specific clients, which is a painstaking process. The training for each dog can take 7-10 months and cost up to tens of thousands of dollars. Dogs that are not suitable candidates for service dog work are placed in loving homes through the organization's adoption program.

Our goal is simple: Raise a minimum of $60,000 for the training of two service dogs. To further help the cause, the Panebianco Family Foundation has agreed to match the amount of each individual donation up to $10,000. Donations will be tax-deductible, and donors will be allowed to market the total of their doubled donation as their own.
